

Make a Rainbow

Stand a glass of water just inside a window, where sunlight is streaming through. Put a big sheet of white paper on the floor, just below the glass. Move the glass until rainbow colours appear on the paper. White light is passing through the curved wedge-shape of water at the edge of the glass. The light is split to form a spectrum.